Philadelphia—Campus Apartments has expanded its third-party management portfolio in four markets.

Recently, Campus Apartments was awarded new contracts to manage student housing portfolios in four different states. In addition to assuming new management accounts of 506 beds in Ann Arbor, Mich., and 756 beds under development in Tucson, Ariz., the company has assumed management of properties in two new markets, with 928 beds in Morgantown, W.Va. and 933 beds in Norfolk, Va.

“Our long history of being developers, owners and operators gives us a unique perspective in the industry,” says Miles Orth, executive vice president and chief operating officer of Campus Apartments.
