W St. Joseph's University and Campus Apartments are teaming up to develop a new dormitory on the school's Philadelphia campus.

The 413-bed facility will house freshmen and be constructed on an undeveloped parcel at City and Cardinal avenues where the school has held outdoor commencements. The structure will also serve as a gateway to the southern entrance of the school's campus, the school said.

It was designed by PZS Architects of Philadelphia. The cost of the project hasn't been disclosed. Ground breaking on the dorm is scheduled for next year and it will be completed by fall 2012. Campus Apartments is a private developer and owner of student housing and is based in Philadelphia.
